Risk teams drown in heat maps.

77% of enterprise risk is still coloured amber in a slide drawn once a quarter.

The board doesn't want more colour.

They want a £ number, replayable, that moves when the world does.

> "If we can't replay the decision, we can't defend it."

The shift: from register to layer.

Stop running risk as a system of record. Start running it as a decision-intelligence layer that sits above your GRC stack.

What ERIO does.

18 live feeds → Open FAIR £ curves → n-tier supplier graph → replayable assurance pack → DORA / NIS2 / SOC 2 / ISO 27001 / NIST CSF 2.0 readiness, continuously scored.

See it running on your data in 30 minutes.

No procurement cycle. No month-long trial. A live demo tenant on the signals you care about.
